Israel Defies U.N., Unites Old Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli sector of Jerusalem and the Arab Old City which Israel seized from Jordan in the six-day war became one Israeli city today.

Interior Minister Moshe Shapiro issued a proclamation uniting the Israeli and Arab sectors of the 3,000-year-old City of David for the first time since Jordan seized the walled Old City.

Pressure

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Pressure mounted on Israel today at the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to reserve its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Fifteen nonaligned nations submitted a resolution to the Assembly Wednesday calling on the Israeli government to withdraw its troops from all the territory seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the six day war that began June 5.

Introducing the resolution, Ambassador Danile Lelke of Yugoslavia said the Old City was threatened with full integration into Israel and called for the 122-nation Assembly to adopt his resolution by Friday.

Meanwhile the Israeli government accomplished the integration with a proclamation.

City and Israel occupied the new sector in the 1949 Palestine war.

"Let us see to it that peace and mutual understanding shall prevail among all the city's residents," Shapiro said.

Despite warnings Israel acted despite warnings from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and the Vatican and increasing pressure at the United Nations.

The State Department said the United States does not recognize Israel's assertion of administrative control over Old Jerusalem and its shrines of Christianity, Mohammedanism and Judaism.

"The hasty administrative action taken today cannot be regarded as determining the future of the holy places or the status of Jerusalem in relation to them," the State Department said.

Earlier Wednesday, the White House made a public appeal to Israel to avoid any quick annexation of the old section of Jerusalem.

King Hussein of Jordan called the Israeli action "unacceptable and intolerable." Christian religious leaders in Amman, the Jordanian capital, protested.

Yugoslavia and 14 other non-aligned members of the United Nations rushed a resolution into the emergency General Assembly calling on the Israelis to pull their troops back from all territory wrested from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the six-day war. The sponsors called for action by Friday.

Free Access Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban countered with an announcement that his government would keep Jerusalem united and would administer the holy places with scrupulous respect to all faiths.

Jayne Mansfield, Lawyer, Driver Killed In Collision

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Beautiful Jayne Mansfield and two men were killed early today when their car rammed the rear of a truck slowed by a cloud of mosquito fog across the highway.

It happened on a U.S. 90 curve near the Rigolets, the waterway connection between Lake Pontchartrain and the Gulf of Mexico, in New Orleans. It was about 2:25 a.m.

Killed with the voluptuous 34-year-old Hollywood actress were Samuel S. Brody, who was her lawyer and companion, and the 20-year-old chauffeur, Ronnie Harrison of Mississippi City.

Children Injured Police said three of Miss Mansfield's children, asleep in the back seat of the big gray car, were injured. Physicians said they were in fair condition. They are Marie, 3, Mickey Jr., 8, and Zoltan, 6, her children by musician Mickey Hargitay.

Two of Miss Mansfield's four Chihuahua dogs also died in the shredded auto, which jammed up under the back of the truck trailer.

"It was the most dreadful thing I've ever seen," said George Carmichael, head of the New Orleans mosquito control unit, who was called to the scene by the driver of the insecticide fogging truck.

Miss Mansfield had left Biloxi, Miss., about midnight and was en route to New Orleans where she was scheduled to appear on a television program at noon.

Police said the actress was decapitated.

The accident happened about 30 miles east of downtown New Orleans on a winding, narrow stretch of the two-lane route known as the Old Spanish Trail.

Richard Rambo, around 40, of Pensacola, Fla., driver of the truck, said the car appeared suddenly from the rear and ran beneath the truck's trailer. Rambo was not hurt.

Miss Mansfield had been appearing at the Gus Stevens Restaurant and Supper Club in Biloxi. Her engagement began June 23 and was scheduled to end July 4. On week nights, she performed at a 9 p.m. dinner show and at the 11 p.m. supper show.

Brody had been Miss Mansfield's companion and lawyer. His wife had accused him in a divorce action recently of committing adultery with Miss Mansfield, who was separated from her third husband, Matt Cimber, a stage director. Miss Mansfield and Cimber had a child, Antonio, 1.

Pennsylvania Native Miss Mansfield was born April 1933, in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and grew up in Phillipsburg, N.J. Her real name was Vera Jayne Palmer. Later she moved to Texas and was graduated from Highland Park High School in Dallas and attended the University of Texas and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Her ascent to fame came accidentally when a press agent managed to get her on a publicity junket to Florida for a Jane Russell movie. She happily posed for photographers in a skimpy red bikini and stole the show from Miss Russell and other glamor girls on the trip. This brought her a contract at Warner Bros.

Broadway Smash After a few small roles, she struck it rich in a Broadway show, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" in which she made a startling impression attired solely in a towel. After the run of the play 20th Century-Fox

Vietnam Govt. Crisis Rumored

SAIGON (AP) — Rumors developed tonight of dissension within South Vietnam's military government and a possibility that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky might step down.

Informed sources said the Armed Forces Council, at a morning meeting, gave a no-confidence vote to Ky. Exactly what the vote was about was not known.

The council continued to meet late into the day.

U.S. sources said they could see no indication of a coup and did not know of any unusual troop movements.

Street talk was that Ky might give up his post as premier during the current presidential election campaign, in which he is a candidate. Other reports said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thu might quit his post as chief of state for the campaign.

So. Viet Unit Mauled By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — A crack battalion of some 500 hard-core Communist guerrillas faded away into the jungles today after a running two-day battle in which it badly bloodied a South Vietnamese ranger battalion and evaded a searching force of more than 2,500 allied troops.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the battle area that U.S. officers believe the Viet Cong unit scattered after more than 21 hours of heavy fighting over the two previous days.

Unofficial reports from the field said 153 South Vietnamese troops were missing, 9 were known dead and 119 had been wounded.

The running battle 40 miles northeast of Saigon matched the pattern of hit-and-run engagements that have sent U.S. casualties up sharply in recent days. The weekly casualty report released today said 274 Americans were killed and 1,258 were wounded last week. The death toll was almost double that of the week before.

Neither were authorities able to determine why the trip was being made, but they assumed it began some time after midnight.

The automobile swerved off the highway, back on and off again, and authorities said they were unable to find any trace of its having been on the ground for 100 feet at the U.S. 41 intersection of Golf Road.

It took down roadside brush with it as it plunged into a gulley, only its top protruding above the banks.

hired her for the film version, in which she gave an impersonation of the studio's reigning star, Marilyn Monroe.

The studio groomed her as a threat to the temperamental Miss Monroe but Jayne claimed: "Marilyn and I have certain points in common, but actually we are entirely different persons."

Her style seemed to be almost a caricature of the open-mouthed, insinuating Monroe style, and she slithered through such films as "The Wayward Bus," "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," "Too Hot to Handle," and "It Happened in Athens."

Passion For Publicity

Miss Mansfield early evinced a passion for publicity. She posed in defatigably in all varieties of dress and undress and her 40-21-35½ figure was a delight to photographers.

Her personal life also provided grist for the columnists. She was married at 16 to a public relations man, Paul Mansfield, and was divorced early in her career. A romance with musician Mickey Hargitay was widely publicized at a time when he was appearing in Mae West's night club act. Miss West huffed Hargitay because of the publicity and the pair was married in 1956.

Her most recent film was "Panic Button."

Annexation Is Burr In Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report privately the Israeli annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem soured the atmosphere of President Johnson's first conference with King Hussein of Jordan since that Arab nation lost its war with Israel.

Officials also said they believed the annexation of the Jordanian sector was timed to coincide with the meeting Wednesday. Whether deliberately timed or not, it reportedly cast a pall over the Johnson-Hussein talks despite two U.S. warnings during the day against the annexation.

Liberty Attack Blame Skipped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy court of inquiry has refused to speculate on whether Israeli jets and PT boats knew they were attacking a U.S. vessel when they rocketed, machine-gunned and torpedoes the communications ship Liberty during the Middle East war.

A summary of the court's proceedings, released by the Pentagon late Wednesday, also made no mention of reports the ship was engaged in electronic spying on Israeli and Egyptian communications when she was hit June 8 some 15 miles north of the Sinai Peninsula.

The summary, prepared from a secret report, said witnesses before the Navy court testified to "significant surveillance of the Liberty on three occasions" from the air hours before the mid-afternoon attack.

But the document added that because it was not an international investigation, there was no evidence on whether the planes identified the Liberty.

The Navy court affirmed the vessel's right to be where it

Rodgers 65

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a real nice clambake for composer Richard Rodgers as he celebrated his 65th birthday.

His day began Wednesday with a two-hour salute on the NBC television "Today" show and continued through tributes by almost everybody important in show business.

At a luncheon given by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, Mitch Miller lead a group of alumni of Rodgers shows in singing "Happy Birthday."

Central Time For State Is Proposed

LANSING (AP) — Time takes another turn in the House of Representatives today.

The House planned to consider a bipartisan resolution calling on the U.S. Department of Transportation to assign all of Michigan to the Central Time Zone. The Upper Peninsula now is on Central Time and the Lower Peninsula on Eastern time.

"As a matter of geography, more than 90 per cent of the territory of the state and its population are physically in the Central Time Zone," the House resolution contends.

"The Transportation Department would take a second look at a joint resolution from the Michigan Legislature," predicted Rep. Tom Sharpe, R-Howell, one of 31 sponsors of the resolution.

He said he believed the House would pass the resolution.

Sen. Charles Zeller, R-Benton Harbor, said the resolution would receive support in the Senate.

"I've had 20,000 calls from mothers who can't get their children to bed before 10:30 at night," Sharpe said.

Many Upper Peninsula communities refused, however, to join Lower Michigan on Eastern Daylight Saving Time. The Transportation Department, which is responsible for time regulatory action, ruled that the UP is situated in the Central Time Zone.

When Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley withdrew a petition asking the Transportation Department to include the UP in the Eastern Time Zone, the state was divided by the clock.

They wrote they were bent on mass matrimony. Chas. threatened. The list was sifted and the number pared to nine.

But until Basel agreed to officiate it looked as though the would-be couples would be left standing single at the altar. Katz had called the idea a "disgusting affair."

Wednesday night a cocktail party was held to introduce newsmen to the nine couples, the couples to the judge and the business-men sponsors, who are supplying everything from cakes to honeymoons, to everyone.

But Criminal Court Judge Amos Basel agreed to take the job late Wednesday.

"I cleared this first with the judicial administration and they told me to go ahead," he said. "I assured them that it was not going to be a spectacle."

Levy Is Facing Uncertain Fate In State Senate

LANSING (AP) — The House today passed through a $269 million state income tax plan, with six votes and no time to spare.

Twenty Democrats joined 42 Republicans and passed a 2.6 percent personal income tax—100 percent of the major tax-laying package.

The controversial plan now faces an uncertain future in the Senate. If passed, it will be Michigan's first individual income tax.

The 62-44 victory margin ending weeks of stormy debate, came after the House was reconvened shortly after midnight.

Romney Pressures

At least 56 votes were needed to pass the measure, and Gov. George Romney burned the midnight oil with tax reform leaders in pressuring legislators to support the bipartisan plan.

Romney and Republican and Democratic negotiations had forged the compromise plan earlier Wednesday under threat of a Friday midnight deadline.

The House package calls for income taxes of 2.6 per cent on individuals, 5.6 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions.

It also provides for relief from city income taxes, property taxes and the intangibles tax. It would repeal the business activities tax and would return about $38 million a year to counties, cities, villages and townships on a population basis.

The Senate has passed a somewhat different fiscal reform package.

But Romney warned the two chambers that they must resolve their tax differences by Friday midnight or face substantial slashes in state spending in the fiscal year beginning at 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

Major variances between the House and Senate versions included:

—A 2.6 per cent individual income tax with a $1,200 exemption in the House bill, compared with the Senate's 2.5 per cent tax and $600 exemption.

—A 5.6 per cent corporate income tax in the House bill, while the Senate has passed a 5.5 per cent levy.

—About $103 million in property tax relief under the House bill, compared with an estimated $90 million under the Senate plan.

Last week the House passed another part of the fiscal package, increasing the per-pack tax on cigarettes from 7 to 10 cents.

Plan Referendum Another part of the compromise plan involves letting voters decide whether to legalize graduated state and local income taxes. Republicans promised to try to supply enough votes to put such a proposal on the ballot in November 1968. The Senate already has passed such a resolution.

Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, brought in five days of stormy tax reform bargaining sessions in Romney's office to end when both parties, under deadline pressure, agreed to his suggested compromise.

Democrats had pressed for more relief for individual taxpayers and a higher tax on businesses than Republicans felt they could support. Republican negotiators warned if they made major concessions in those areas, their party members would refuse to vote for the package.

Oct. 1 Effect GOP leaders had tried twice this session to pass income tax bills without reaching agreement with Democrats. Both bills were defeated.

The compromise proposal is designed to raise about $210 million in fiscal 1967-68 and about

Buffalo Negroes Riot For 2nd Night; Loot, Firebomb

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A second night of racial rioting in this city of half a million population required hospital treatment for at least 40 persons and raised fire damage to nearly $100,000, fire officials said today.

More than 1,000 Negroes, most of them youths, tore through the lower East Side Wednesday night, shooting guns, setting fires, looting stores and shattering windows, in an outbreak blamed by some upon a lack of jobs and recreation facilities.

The injured compared with eight treated at hospitals Tuesday night and included at least 14 with minor gunshot wounds, plus four policemen with cuts and bruises.

The Communist Robert B. Howard estimated Wednesday night's fire damage at $42,000.

A new count of arrests came to nearly 50, compared with 23 Tuesday night.

Disorder also broke out in neighboring Niagara Falls, but 50 helmeted policemen dispersed the 200 protesters within an hour and after only a few windows had been broken in the report city's northeastern chief Negro section.

Although Buffalo police preferred to call the outbreak a disturbance, reporters on the scene said it was a riot.

The first major demonstration of racial unrest in Upstate New York since the Rochester riots of 1954.

Buffalo streets quieted during the pre-dawn hours, apparently because—in part—many young persons were so tired from the all-night rampage Tuesday that they went home to bed.

Crowds of several hundred rocks and bottle-tossing youths ranging from pre-teens to their early 20s kept 400 police busy firing dozens of volleys of tear gas shells along four strife-torn blocks of Syracuse Street.

Many of the youngsters vanished after dark, leaving the streets to looters and arsonists.

Miss Olson Retires: Devoted Service Record Praised By City Manager

Forty-seven years an employee of the City of Escanaba and 37 years secretary to the city manager — "that's not likely to happen ever again here," said City Manager George Harvey in connection with the retirement of Miss Hilda Olson.

Miss Olson's service to the city will end this week, with June 30 the effective date of her retirement.

"She has been most dedicated in her service to the City and its people," said Harvey. "Where would you ever find another record like that?"

The retirement of Miss Olson will trigger changes in two of the offices at the City Hall.

Mrs. Stanley (Stella) Jandis of 317 S. 23rd St., who has been employed as principal clerk-secretary in the office of City Clerk Don Guindon, will become executive secretary to City Manager Harvey effective July 1. She has been employed by the city since 1960.

The promotion of Mrs. Jandis left the position of secretary-stenographer vacant in the office of the city clerk, and this vacancy is being filled with the employment of Mrs. Allen (Mae) Hynes of 804 S. 18th St.

Mrs. Hynes, the mother of four children, graduated from business school in Minneapolis and she has been employed in clerical work in Escanaba. Before accepting the position with the city she was employed by UPCA in its Small Business Division Center.

Recalling the earlier days of her work with the city (she began on Oct. 7, 1920) Miss Olson described those first days as "clerk, stenographer and general flunkie" in the office at what was then the Escanaba Board of Public Works at 710 Ludington St. "One thing required in those days was that a girl must be able to take dictation," she noted. "Now many young women want secretarial work but they don't know shorthand."

Miss Olson's transcribed "pot hooks" have become letters from three city managers on subjects both great and small. She was first employed as secretary by City Manager George E. Bean, next by A. V. Aronson, and now by Harvey.

Mrs. Clarice Buckley, now retired, served as secretary to earlier managers Fred Harris and Ted Kessler. They also did city bookkeeping as well.

"Then Mr. Bean decided he wanted and needed a fulltime secretary," Miss Olson recalls.

The City Council honored Miss Olson at one of its recent meetings. She was presented with a watch and received the good wishes of the Councilmen.

She was also guest of honor at a dinner party arranged by women employees in the City Hall.

Miss Olson resides with a sister at 1104 2nd Ave. S. and in her retirement will enjoy her friendships and her membership in several clubs and organizations to which she belongs.

Saginaw Police said no one was injured and no immediate damage estimates were available.

Goulais Real Estate Is Bought By Bill DeHaan

Arthur J. Goulais, a real estate dealer here for a third century, today announced that William (Bill) F. DeHaan has purchased the Art Goulais Real Estate Agency, effective July 1. The agency office is at 114 S. 10th St.

Goulais will retain his real estate broker's license and will remain associated with the firm. He and Mrs. Goulais will spend their winters in Florida, where they have an apartment and their summers here at their home at 2547 Lake Shore Drive.

Goulais is the oldest licensed real estate broker in Delta County. He is the developer of the Goulais Subdivision north of 18th Ave. S., where 40 acres have been largely covered with a spread of some of Escanaba's finest homes in one of its most attractive neighborhoods, and where 40 acres on the west remain to be developed as homesites. Goulais also owns a warehouse and other properties in Escanaba.

Was Railroad Man

A native of Escanaba who started his career as a railroad man, Goulais worked in the accounting department of the Chicago & North Western Railway here and was chief clerk upon leaving to enter the insurance field. He worked for a year converting fraternal insurance, starting in New Orleans, and then returned to Escanaba and opened his own insurance agency office here in 1931. A few years later he added real estate brokerage to his business. He built the office building at 114 S. 10th St., which still houses his firm and that of Al Taylor, who purchased his insurance business five years ago.

Goulais has been prominently identified with the real estate business in the Upper Peninsula. He has been president of the U.P. Board of Realtors twice and a director many times. He is currently a member of the U.P. Board of Realtors, the Michigan Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Consolidates Agencies
Bill DeHaan is a native of Grand Rapids and was graduated from Ottawa Hills High School there and from Michigan State University in 1959 with a major in history and minor in social studies. He taught high school for three years, two at Vermontville and one at Hastings and in 1962 joined the State Highway Department Right Of Way Division. This work brought him to Escanaba in 1963.

At State DeHaan met coed Fronda Kennedy of Pickford in Chippewa County and they wed. They have three sons, Peter, 6; David 5, and Paul, 1, and make their home at 307 S. 3rd St.

DeHaan left the Highway Department, where he was an appraiser for four years, to engage in the real estate business as an appraiser and salesman. He recently formed the Delta Real Estate Agency and will consolidate this agency with the Art Goulais Real Estate agency with offices at 114 S. 10th St.

Veteran salesman Warren D. Johnston and saleswoman Lou Berglund will continue as associates.

Installation Of Rock Lions Held Saturday

The Rock Lions installation was held at the Rock Lions clubhouse Saturday evening. Guests included their ladies, the Gwinn Lions and their wives, and several Lions from Perkins, including Zone Chairman, Julian VanDeCayve.

Gwinn Lion, Bredson Willis, was the installing officer for the following new officers of the Rock Lions: President, Victor Mankiewicz; Vice Presidents, Gene DeKeyser, Waino Bakka, Robert Koski; Secretary, Francis Trombly; Dues Secretary, Paul Johnson; Treasurer, Sulo Harkonen; Tail Twister, Ahti Waak; Lion Tamer, Monty Tavis; Directors, Leslie Larson and John Norman.

Immediate past president, Leo Kulki, presided at the meeting. The Rock Lutheran Church ladies prepared the banquet.

Victor Mankiewicz and Herb Westlund attended the chicken Bar-B-Que sponsored by the Gwinn Lions at Gwinn on Sunday.

The Gwinn Lions installation banquet was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Herb Westlund, Mr. and Mrs. Ahti Waak, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz, Mr. and Mrs. Gene DeKeyser, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jokela and Albert Weldum of Rock on Tuesday evening at Gwinn. Mankiewicz and DeKeyser installed the Gwinn officers.

Additional revenues were needed to meet the rising costs of the operation of the waste water utility. State and federal standards for the treatment of sewage in the control of water pollution have been raised and with it has come increasing costs, it was pointed out.

In the past the cost of treating the waste water has been charged off to the city's general fund and paid from taxes. The charging of a service fee under the new system will place the cost on the users of the facility.

Milton Embs, Escanaba city controller, said the rate to be charged is below that of most communities where such a service is provided. Most other cities have a rate that is based on from 80 to 110 per cent of the water bill.

Bring In $82,500
An example of the higher costs created by rising standards for water treatment is the expense the city must pay for chlorinating the sewage disposal plant effluent all year around.

The waste water service charge will bring to the city anticipated revenues totaling $82,500 annually — revenues which will relieve the payment of that sum through tax levy.

Use of the water bill as the basis for computing the waste water service charge is considered the fairest and most equitable and most accurate. There must be some unit of measurement and the amount of water consumed is considered the best basis for the charge — with necessary adjustments where large volumes of water are not returned to the sewer by certain users.

Questions relating to the new utility and to the waste water charge will be answered at the utility window at the City Hall.

Sewage Disposal Charge To Start In City July 1

A charge for sewer service will be made by the City of Escanaba beginning July 1. It is called a waste water charge.

The charge will be made against all owners or occupants of premises having a connection with the city's sanitary sewage system.

The amount to be charged will be based on a percentage of the water bill.

For June, July and August the rate will be based on 40 per cent of the water charge, because in the summer months there is considerable water used in sprinkling which is not returned to the waste water system.

In the other months of the year the rate will be based on 50 per cent of the water bill.

The charge for waste water (sanitary sewage) service was recommended to the City Council and approved in connection with the city's budget for the fiscal year 1967-68.

Additional revenues were needed to meet the rising costs of the operation of the waste water utility. State and federal standards for the treatment of sewage in the control of water pollution have been raised and with it has come increasing costs, it was pointed out.

States Calling For More U.S. Highway Help

BLANEY PARK — Highway projects totaling $151.8 million have been recommended by Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin as part of a program to encourage economic development of the Upper Great Lakes Region, a member of the State Highway Commission said tonight.

State Highway Commissioner Wallace D. (Mike) Nunn of East Tawas said 15 projects totaling $51.7 million are in Michigan — 13 in the Upper Peninsula and two in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Forty-five Michigan counties are part of the Upper Great Lakes Economic Development Region established by Congress under provisions of the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965.

Thirty-eight Minnesota counties and 36 Wisconsin counties — all in the upper two-thirds of those states — also are part of the Upper Great Lakes Region.

Ask Early Action
Nunn told the 59th annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Road Builders Association that the three states submitted a report to the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission three months ago which outlined the Region's highway needs.

A second report has been sent to the Commission in Washington listing a specific "early action program."

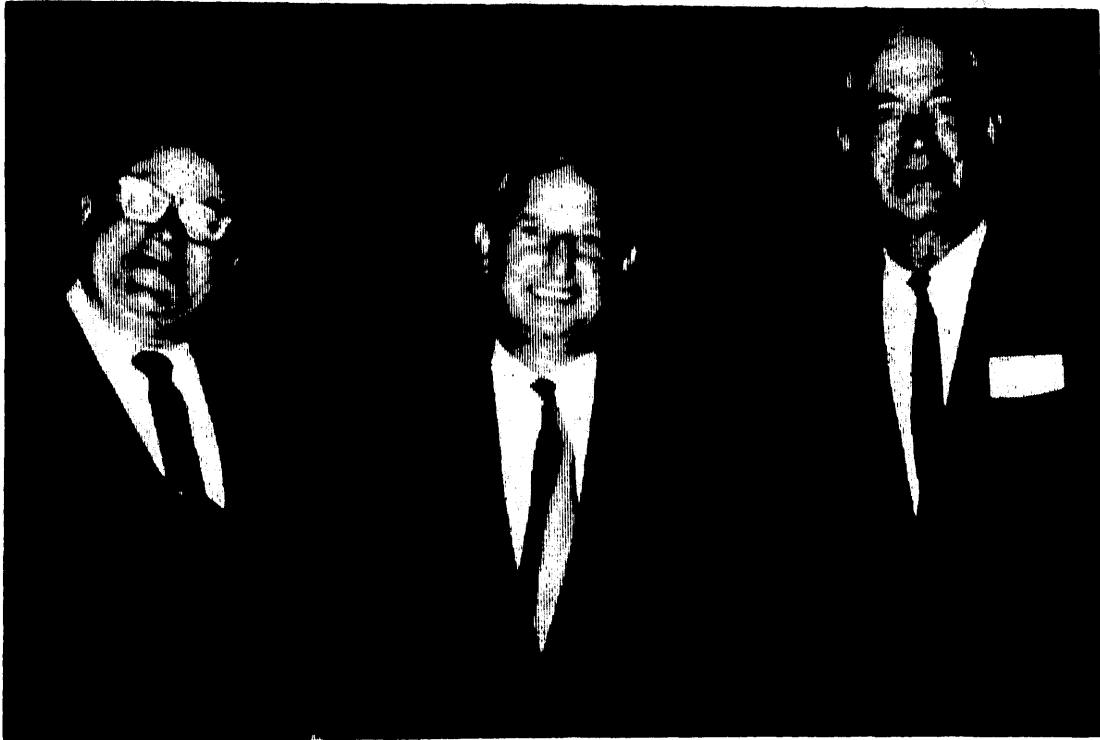

"The projects recommended by the three states for an early action program are of several types ranging from immediate construction of roads for which engineering and right-of-way acquisition have been completed to projects involving development engineering as a forerunner to later construction," he said.

"All of the construction projects listed in the proposal have one thing in common — they are needed today but can not be put under contract at this time because of a shortage of funds."

Nunn said the three highway departments have urged the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission to recommend to Congress that these projects be financed with 70 per cent federal funds and 30 per cent state or local funds.

Aid To Growth
"All of us in the Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin Highway Departments feel that if Congress wants to get the economy of the Upper Great Lakes Region moving ahead, one of the best ways to do it is to improve the area's highways," Nunn said.

"Modernization of hundreds of miles of highways throughout the region is absolutely necessary to achieve economic stability and growth within the Upper Great Lakes Region."

He said the projects recommended for early action could be accomplished within a reasonably short span of time — within two to three years in most cases.

The 15 Michigan projects that have been submitted as part of the early action proposal include:

- Development engineering for 260 miles of freeway in the Upper Peninsula at an estimated cost of $11.7 million. All of the necessary route location studies, surveys and final design would be done for an east-west freeway paralleling U.S. 2 from 1 75 north of St. Ignace west to U.S. 41 and for a north-south freeway extending from Menominee to Marquette. It's anticipated these two routes eventually will be built to freeway standards at an estimated cost of $200 million.

"By doing the necessary engineering now, we'd have final plans ready to go when the funds become available," Nunn said.

- Construction of four miles of scenic access roads to the Pictured Rocks National Shoreline at an estimated cost of $800,000.

- Reconstruction of 11 miles of U.S. 2 from M 64 west in Gogebic County at an estimated cost of $2.2 million.

- Construction of nearly six miles of freeway between Gladstone and Rapid River in Delta County at an estimated cost of $3,757,000.

- Reconstruction of 9.8 miles of U.S. 2 east from a point about four and one-half miles east of Rapid River in Delta County at an estimated cost of $1.6 million.

- Relocation, reconstruction and resurfacing of 9.7 miles of M 28 from Bruce Crossing to Trout Creek in Ontonagon County at an estimated cost of $1,682,000.

- Widening and reconstruction of 10 miles of U.S. 2 and U.S. 141 from the Michigan-Wisconsin state line north to Crystal Falls at an estimated cost of $1.5 million.

- Reconstruction and relocation of 16.3 miles of U.S. 141 from U.S. 2 to Amasa in Iron County at an estimated cost of $3,830,000.

- Construction of a new bridge between Menominee and Marinette, Wis., to replace the existing First Street-Ogden Street Bridge. The new bridge will cost an estimated $2 million and Michigan and Wisconsin would share jointly in the financing. The Michigan share would come from local funds.

- Widening and resurfacing of 19.2 miles of M 28 from Munising west to a point near the Alger-Marquette County line at an estimated cost of $3.8 million.

- Relocation of 29.5 miles of Lake Superior Shoreline at a Crippewa County at an estimated cost of $3.9 million.

- Reconstruction and relocation of 9.7 miles of M 26 from M 35 near Mass City in Ontonagon County northeast to a point near Winona in Houghton County at an estimated cost of $2,961,000.

- Relocation of 12.6 miles of U.S. 45 over Greenland Road — now a county road — in Ontonagon County at an estimated cost of $3,150,000.

College Names Honor Students

Bay de Noc Community College lists 27 resident students of Delta County and three out-of-county resident students who have earned the President's Scholastic Honors for attaining academic excellence in the Spring Semester 1966-67.

Scholastic honors are awarded to those students who earned not less than a 3.5 grade point average and were enrolled for 12 or more credit hours of college work. Attainment of the minimum standard for scholastic honors is a significant academic achievement representing the very best that can be expected of college students.

NOTICE

Effective July 1, 1967, all owners or occupants of each premise having a connection to the Escanaba Waste Water System shall be charged the following rates as set forth in Section 101 of Ordinance No. 487.

For the months from September thru May, 50% of the appropriate Water charge.

For the months from June thru August, 40% of the appropriate Water charge.

The Water Charge consists of the monthly service charge plus the charge for the water used. The reduced rate for the months of June, July and August is to allow for water used in sprinkling and not returned to the waste water system.

The Charge for Waste Water Service for July 1967 shall be calculated only upon that portion of the Water Charge attributable to July. There will be no charge for that portion of the bill attributable to June.

The Waste Water Charge on the July 1967 billing to owners or occupants whose water meters are read from July 1st thru July 10th will be waived.

The Waste Water Charge on the July 1967 billing to owners or occupants whose water meters are read from July 11th to July 20th will be charged $\frac{1}{3}$ of the normal monthly Waste Water bill.

The Waste Water Charge on the July 1967 billing to owners or occupants whose meters are read from July 21st thru the end of the month will be charged $\frac{2}{3}$ of the normal monthly Waste Water bill.

From August 1st and thereafter the full applicable rate will be charged.

For those customers of the Water Department that use water in such a fashion so that less than the normal portion of water purchased is returned to the Waste Water System, a proportionate reduction in the Waste Water Charge may be made. If you believe that you are entitled to consideration for a portion of your Waste Water Charge, apply at the Utility Window at the City Hall, or call 786-0552.

The Highway Gyp

It is impossible to live in Escanaba or Gladstone and believe that the State Highway Department is serving the state well. We read about all the honors that our Highway Department gets in national judgments on the various state's highway efforts, and that a piece of I-75 has been voted the most beautiful in the nation — or was it the world? — but we are confronted all-ways with the performance of the Highway Department in the Gladstone-Rapid River problem and it qualifies as highway responsibility at its worst.

There is a consensus in the Upper Peninsula that this is the worst highway bottleneck remaining in the U. P., but the Highway Department tolerates it, year after year. There are improvements elsewhere; there are refinements of good roads elsewhere, but this vital segment where the Peninsula's two greatest arteries — U. S. 41 and U. S. 2 run on one road — remains a narrow, dangerous unlimited access highway.

The State Highway Department is now spending $114,000 on surface and base repair of this inadequate and deadly road between Gladstone and Rapid River. It is like putting a porous plaster on a dead man, a waste of funds that should be put into a new, adequate, safe highway. The Highway Department justifies this wasteful expenditure because it doesn't intend to do anything basic on the problems for some time to come unless there's a great public cry of outrage.

Reconstruction of the U. S. 2-41 highway between Gladstone and Rapid River on new right-of-way was scheduled by the State Highway Department for letting last March and construction this year. But a state financial squeeze developed and the project was postponed. Now the letting is scheduled for the fall of 1970 with construction planned for 1971.

Meanwhile every tourist, every business traveler, every trucker, every recreational driver on this route will be at the mercy of the slowest driver on it. It will be impossible to pass most of the time because this is the busiest highway in the Upper Peninsula and it has one poor lane for traffic in each direction.

A State Highway Department traffic survey report last year showed that the daily count of cars between Escanaba and Gladstone was 10,700. Only 9,562 passed at the Straits at St. Ignace, only 4,456 at Sault Ste. Marie on modern, multi-laned I-75, only 8,100 at Marquette where the Upper Peninsula's greatest concentration of population exists. The count at Houghton was 5,600 and at Ironwood it was 3,700.

Only at Menominee, where the traffic is heavy because of the immediate proximity of Marinette, Wis., was the count higher — 15,700. Nowhere within the Peninsula was the count as high as between Escanaba and Gladstone and the Gladstone-Rapid River extension of this situation is very heavily traveled.

The Highway Department has several times delayed relocation and reconstruction of this highway. It has used such shoddy excuses as local dissent from state planning, as though the State Highway Department could dispense with its obligation to serve the traveling public because there was a local excuse for inaction. The state's money went elsewhere for highway improvement.

All our local governments and promotional agencies should resolve criticism of the Highway Department for its inaction in this crucial problem. We should unite in demand for action now and speak out in condemnation of the patch and pray treatment we are getting year after year.

What we need is some local action to remove the "Your Highway Dollars At Work" signs and to erect some of our own which state "Here's the State Wasting Our Money Again When It Should Be Building a New Highway."

In most bridge columns the experts also seem to wear the white hats, like the good guys in westerns. But sometimes the experts do not come out best. Occasionally, expert knowledge works against them.

Most any bridge player will wind up at a four spade contract with the South hand. He will undoubtedly be faced with three heart leads and will trump the third.

The ordinary good player will decide to finesse. He will enter dummy with a diamond in order to lead a trump to his queen. When the queen holds he will lay down his ace and claim the balance when the ace play drops both the king and jack.

The expert knows a better line of play. He is interested in the best line to avoid the loss of more than one trump trick; not the line to avoid the loss of any trump trick at all.

Instead of leading a diamond to dummy at trick four he will play out his ace of trumps. This is a standard safety play that will insure his contract against any trump break except king-jack, small or king-jack—small—small in the West hand and there is no way for him to handle those combinations.

This time he picks up the six and deuce of trumps with his ace. Then he goes over to dummy and leads toward his hand. East makes his king but that is all. Expert South has collected one less trick than the ordinary player South, but we wonder what ordinary player South would have done if West had produced the king of spades to go on the queen and if the next spade lead from dummy left the jack still unaccounted for. Would he finesse and play West for the singleton king or would he rise with the ace and play West for the king-jack?

We don't find out this time because the birds sang sweetly for ordinary South, for he wore the white hat instead of the expert.

"I'll Run on a Platform of More Help from the United States!"

The Dangerous Game

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Each time the United States and the Soviet Union shrink away from the peril of nuclear conflict, as again in the Middle East, predictable responses arise from both the Left and the Right.

Some rightists argue that the avoidance of encounter demonstrates above all that Moscow is a bluffer and will always back away from real challenge.

Many leftists conclude that the avoidance means the Big Two, having freshly exhibited a common interest in not fighting each other, may thereafter move quickly to settle all outstanding world issues between them.

Neither response reflects the real situation in the world today.

Moscow obviously uses the bluff when it can. But its abortive 1962 effort to introduce intermediate-range missiles into Cuba, 90 miles from Florida indicates serious interest in altering the Balance of Terror which now compels it to back off from direct confrontation with America.

Russia's interest in developing a successful antiballistic missile system, which could also tilt that balance if unmatched by us, is further sign that the Reds are playing in earnest.

At the other end of the argument, however, it does not follow that—because the Balance of Terror still prevails—East-West difficulties may be swiftly ended.

The current and recent historical evidence suggests that the prospect may be just the opposite. The small, limited thrust—military, subversive, diplomatic, economic—looks safer and hence more attractive than ever against the assumption that the prudent great powers will not let the big war happen.

In the face of America's immense nuclear might, the Soviet Union launched the Berlin blockade, spurred the Korean war, verbally threatened Britain and France with "rockets" and "volunteers" in the 1956 Suez crisis, armed Cuba and tried to make it a Russian missile base, pumped in major military material to Indonesia, North Vietnam and the revenge-minded Arab lands.

In most of these instances, the United States felt it necessary to range its power, in one degree or another, against Moscow's proddings. Red initiatives sometimes have been so numerous that U. S. analysts have questioned our capacity to respond.

The paradox is noted by the

We used to come to grips with things. Nowadays, it's grips.

Many elderly drivers are voluntarily turning in their licenses in the interest of safety. So far, this hasn't caught on big with teenagers.

When you add up all the self-proclaimed "forgotten Americans," you wonder who's left to be remembered.

brilliant French internationalist, Raymond Aron.

"Never has the United States been so strong; never has it known such insecurity."

It is not only Soviet and other Red adventurism which keeps the world unsettled despite the dampening effect of the Balance of Terror. Small nations feel freer than ever to defy the big powers and to assault each other. Again, author Aron expresses it in his book, "Peace and War."

"Never have weapons been so terrifying, never have they inspired so little terror in those who are not equipped with them. . . . It is as if military strength can be translated into diplomatic power only with great difficulty when the so-called supreme weapons are so monstrously inhuman."

None of this means that the Balance of Terror has convinced either Russia, the initiator of trouble, or the United States, the responder to it, that it may indulge in small conflict without caution.

The difficulty arises from the evident fact that each of the two nuclear giants may define "caution" differently.

The Kremlin surely understood America's intention not to let Israel die as a nation. What military or diplomatic circumstances did it conceive which would allow an Arab (and hence Russian) victory without our perilous intervention on Israel's side?

Moscow must have imagined total diplomatic breakdown or crushing military defeat delivered to Israel so swiftly no useful U. S. response would have been possible.

Given that assumption, its goading aid of the Arab world may have looked "cautious" to Kremlin leaders. The moment they discovered their huge miscalculation, they hastened to redefine their cautious intent on the "hot line" to President Johnson.

But the whole episode etches frighteningly the dangers of an era wherein the unthinkable prospect that nuclear missiles will be fired somehow emboldens men to resort—all too easily in many places—to the still great stockpile of yesterday's weapons.

VIETNAM

The American Government should play a strong guiding role in insuring a fair and impartial presidential election in Vietnam.

I have written to President Johnson suggesting:

"We have placed hundreds of thousands of American lives on the line to assist in the defense of a small nation. I am now convinced that we have as vital a stake in the development of freedom, self-determination, and a viable democracy in South Vietnam as we do in halting aggression.

"If the first faltering steps toward viable democracy fail in the September elections, critics of American-South-east Asian policy, foreign and domestic, will have a field day in the court of world opinion. On the other hand, if the elections are fair, impartial and successful, a tremendous concrete as well as psychological victory will have been won for the forces of freedom. America has done much to encourage democratic development in South Vietnam already. We simply cannot afford to turn our backs now.

"Therefore, it is not sufficient, nor is it good politics, for us to take a 'hands off' posture in the September presidential election. Rather, we must use all of our influence, political and moral, to insure that each of the major candidates has the same opportunity to campaign and to persuade the South Vietnamese government to make campaigning feasible for all candidates—civilian as well as military.

"It is not America's business to pick a South Vietnamese leader, and elect him president. However, if our sacrifices in Vietnam mean anything at all, it is America's business to encourage the government of South Vietnam to secure for its people the right to pick their own president in a fair election."

Senators Score Romney's Criticism On Budgeting

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has drawn sharp replies from members of both parties on the Senate Appropriations Committee for attacking as unsound and irresponsible a budget the committee proposed for 1967-68.

Romney accused the committee Wednesday of attempting "to escape its responsibilities by means of a budget which could be supported by more nuisance taxes," and repeated his vow to veto any such budget.

Romney described the budget as "neither a sound budget which will meet the needs of our state nor an austerity budget," but "something in between."

"It's Consistent" He charged that the committee has cut Senate bills and House-approved budget measures by $131 million from his recommended $1.153 billion for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles Zellar, R-Benton Harbor, said Romney's attack was "quite emotional and in my opinion it's not factual. And it's consistent with his past statements."

Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, termed the governor's statements as "unfortunate" and defended the committee, saying they had worked long and hard on the budget.

"If the governor himself spent as much time on the budget as we did, I don't think he'd be criticizing anybody," retorted committee member Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood.

Short Of Income The committee Tuesday night reported out some $364 million in House spending bills, slashing $71 million from the House-approved versions.

These bills, along with the Senate-approved appropriations bills of more than $400 million and an estimated $300 million in state school aid would add up to a budget of nearly $1 billion, the committee said.

The committee had estimated available revenue at $984.9 million.

A good example of cutbacks, Romney said, was "the decision to force the major departments to absorb the entire Civil Service pay increase of 7 per cent in addition to the 5 per cent efficiency factor originally built into our budget recommendations."

"There are men on this committee who would be pallbearers at the funeral of Michigan's hard-earned progress," he added. "Intent upon once again burying tax reform, they would also bury effective state and local public services."

Threatens Veto "I will not accept an irresponsible budget financed by nuisance taxes and fiscal gimmicks," he said. "If such a program reaches my desk, I will veto it."

Zollar described the committee budget as one which "will meet the hold-the-line needs of the state" and could be the last legislative opportunity to cut excess state spending.

"It was the action of the entire committee on the proposed recommended budget and was not partisan in nature and was a result of a comprehensive study of information available," Zollar said.

Zollar predicted that if a tax reform plan should pass "everybody in the state will make demands on raising the budget to create demands outstripping revenue raised by a new tax package."

Mrs. Ella Hall Dies Suddenly

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Herman (Lenore) Sundin of Detroit; one son, Elmer Jr., of Muskegon and nine grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Ames Stevenson of Pennsylvania. Another daughter, Mrs. Eldridge LaVigne of Wind Lake, Wis., died May 14 of this year.

Friends may call at the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Friday. The body will be removed to the Congregational Church at 10 a.m. Saturday where services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Rev. Phillip Mell will officiate and burial will be in Moss Lake Cemetery.

$269 in a full year of operation.

The personal income tax would take effect next Oct. 1. So would an increase in the person exemption to the intangibles tax from $10 to $100.

The cigarette tax would become effective Aug. 1. The corporate income tax would replace the business activities tax next Jan. 1.

Deadline Near In negotiations Wednesday morning, Romney warned both parties that unless agreement was reached that day it probably would be too late to pass a package in the House, compromise with the Senate and get the final package on his desk before the start of his fiscal year.

"If the Legislature doesn't meet its constitutional responsibilities by June 30," Romney warned, "an austerity budget goes into effect July 1."

Before the two parties accepted Montgomery's compromise, Democrats had been seeking a 5.7 per cent corporate income tax and a $1,200 per-person exemption on the personal income tax.

Republicans suggested a 5.5 per cent corporate tax and a $600 exemption coupled with a $12-per-person annual sales tax refund.

Property Tax Aid The House plan would provide relief from property and city income taxes on a "sliding scale" basis designed to give the highest degree of benefit to persons with smaller tax bills.

A taxpayer would get a $20 refund on the first $100 of his property tax, another $7.50 on the next $50, another $5 on the next $50, plus 5 per cent of anything over $201.

If his property taxes for the year totaled $350, for example, his refund would be $40.

The same sliding scale would apply to the amount of city income tax owed by either resident or nonresident taxpayers.

The State Budget Bureau estimates the plan would cut property taxes about $103 million a year statewide and would provide $11 million worth of relief from local income levies.

Pinecrest Asks Operating Funds

Gene Marcantonio, administrator of Pinecrest Medical Care Facility at Powers, today asked the Board of Supervisors for $12,500 as Delta County share of a $37,500 fund to meet current operating expenses of the nursing care unit.

Marcantonio said he had already received commitments for identical amounts from Menominee and Dickinson counties.

The $37,500, Marcantonio explained, is needed to meet operating expenses of the facility because of a lag of some 60 days in payments from the state.

Marcantonio said Pinecrest has already borrowed $25,000 to meet cost demands and the $37,500 from the three counties which own the facility would repay the loan and also provide Pinecrest with funds on which to operate for the remainder of the year.

"Since we operate on a cash basis, state participation is made after expenditures are expended," he explained. "We find it quite difficult to operate on a day to day basis; by this, I mean that for every dollar spent I must await a return for that dollar approximately 60 days later by way of state participation."

Problem New He said the problem is new this year because of changes in the billing procedures involving the state Medicaid program and federal Medicare.

Billing, he said, must go through an intermediary insurance company which further delays payments to Pinecrest.

Marcantonio said that Pinecrest also has been hurt by cutbacks in the Medicaid program.

The request was referred to the Ways and Means Committee of the Board.

Chairman Charles Sedenquist called the board into session shortly after 10 a.m.

In another nursing home matter, Sedenquist said the

Heavy Road Toll Predicted On 4th

DETROIT (AP)—The Automobile Club of Michigan warned Wednesday that the first four-day July Fourth weekend since 1963 will take a heavy toll of lives on Michigan highways.

The club said that nearly all of the state's 3.2 million vehicles will be on the road and they will be joined with many out of state cars.

The holiday toll is expected to pass the 27 deaths recorded over the three-day Independence Day weekend last year. The National Safety Council predicts 700 to 800 highway deaths nationwide for the holiday.

Airport Funding Makes Progress

LANSING — Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistiquie) today reported that the House has passed an appropriation measure which will provide state matching funds for the construction and improvement of facilities at the Escanaba city airport.

A program calling for nearly $750,000 for construction work on a terminal building, entrance road, taxiway parking lot, and an east-west runway extension and apron are in the plans.

Under the Bill passed by the House, Escanaba would receive $232,300 from the State Aeronautics fund and would be required to provide $241,800 in local funds.

The additional $274,200 needed to complete the funding of the project is expected to come from the federal government. The federal funds will be forthcoming after action anticipated in the next session of the Congress.

Rep. Varnum said the House gave the appropriation measure immediate effect and the Michigan Senate is expected to agree to amendments made by the House.

Once Senate agreement is secured the only remaining step necessary before Escanaba would be able to receive the state funds would be approval by Gov. Romney, which is expected to be forthcoming.

The extension of the East-west runway would provide the additional length and higher standards needed by North Central Airlines to begin jet passenger plane service at Escanaba.

Allot Millions For Training Of Teachers

WASHINGTON (A) — Congress has sent to President Johnson its first education bill of the session, a $910 million measure setting up a broad new teacher training program and expanding state control over the Teacher Corps.

The major provision in the bill gives broad new authority to the U.S. Office of Education to aid in training teachers and other educational personnel to meet shortages expected to exist for years.

The measure allots $775 million, or 85 per cent of the money it authorizes, for this program.

The other $135 million in the bill is for a three-year extension of the Teacher Corps in an effort to put that embattled organization on a sound financial footing for the first time.

Merger Opposed

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Petitions bearing 585 signatures and asking repeal of an ordinance merging the police and fire departments were filed with City Clerk Albert First Wednesday. Only 375 names were needed to temporarily block the proposed merger.

Dry Party To Pick Nominees

DETROIT (AP)—The Prohibition party, near extinction but determined to battle to national prominence, continued its statewide little national convention today with plans to pick its presidential candidate.

A chief contender for the nomination bowed out Wednesday. So did the party's national chairman.

"I don't want to be president of this wonderful country," said radio evangelist Charles W. Burpo of Mesa, Ariz., in withdrawing his name from consideration as a presidential nominee.

"I have a more important job to do—spreading God's Word," he said.

Some of the 42 convention delegates occasionally interrupted his talk with shouts of "Amen, brother."

D.D. Gibbons, national chairman of the party, told the 25th convention that he was resigning the post he took in 1964. "I've been working four days a week for the party and three in my practice," said the 62-year-old chiropractor from Kalamazoo, Mich. "My heart's still with the party, but my health and my business are forcing me to step aside."

No successor was named.

The party was expected to nominate E. Harold Munn Sr., 62, as its presidential candidate for 1968. The main competition for Munn, an associate dean at Michigan's Hillsdale College, was expected to be Mark R. Shaw, 78, of Melrose, Mass., Munn's running mate in 1964.

Only 11 states listed the Prohibition party in 1964, when the anti-liquor group drew 27,000 votes. The party has lost in its bids to win a U.S. Supreme Court hearing on the constitutionality of state laws which make it difficult for minor parties to get on ballots.

Propose Sales Tax On Farms, Plants

LANSING (AP)—A bill to remove sales tax exemptions enjoyed by farmers and industrial processors was introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Democrat Stanley Rozycki of Detroit.

Rozycki said the bill could produce an extra $120 million in sales tax annually, with approximately $70 million coming from industry and $50 million from agriculture.

Under law, farmers and industrial processors do not have to pay the 4 per cent sales tax on material or parts to be used in products which are to be sold on the market later and on which a sales tax will be collected.

Vatican Criticized On Jerusalem

DETROIT (AP)—A national Jewish leader has criticized Pope Paul VI's proposal that Jerusalem be made an international city to safeguard holy places.

Maurice A. Weinstein of Charlotte, N. C., chairman of the B'nai B'rith International Council told delegates at a B'nai B'rith regional convention here Wednesday that the Vatican remained silent for 19 years while the Jordanian government refused to let Jews visit holy places in Old Jerusalem.

Midwest Shines In "Heartland," New Time Book

LaPRENIER'S GENERAL STORE on Beaver Island was built in 1898 and it is supplied by boat in the summer and stocked then for its winter trade, when the lake traffic is cut off. (Time-Life Photo)

By JEAN WORTH — the University of Illinois. He was a newspaperman in Denver and a short story writer in Chicago and became a Time writer after World War II. He's the author of four novels and co-author with his wife, Mignon, of "Gayden," a play produced on Broadway in 1949.

The book is out now and it is excellent, a worthy addition to any good library on America and especially the Midwest. We have had anthologies on our writers of the Heartland and even our poets, many books on its contributions to the national economy, a great many novels and biographies about its people, from Lincoln to Custer, from Henry Ford to McCormick (Cyrus, not Bertie), from William B. Ogden to Samuel Insull.

Author Illinoian

We've had some earlier attempts at the interpretive toss in a blanket that McLaughlin gives the Midwest in his "Heartland." The author was born in Chicago and was schooled there and attended the University of Illinois. He was a newspaperman in Denver and a short story writer in Chicago and became a Time writer after World War II. He's the author of four novels and co-author with his wife, Mignon, of "Gayden," a play produced on Broadway in 1949.

His writings and those of the Time-Life team put together a report on the Midwest that is factual, colorful and richly informative. It has some small misses, but they're probably inevitable in a book of this scope. Escanaba's Ludington St. is credited with "102 saloons selling tanglefoot whiskey strong enough to take the hair off a buffalo robe." It's the sort of thing you'd write after visiting 50 of them and suffering double vision, but McLaughlin's rich coloration of the Midwest bleeds up through his text in a genuine way and is not painted on the surface.

Midwest Area He describes a Heartland composed of Illinois, Indiana,

Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin — the old Northwest Territory — as a land of "space and speed, progress and plenty." Above all a land of paradox, with farmlands that grow enough wheat to feed half the nation in one of the most civilized regions of the United States in its landlocked center. And yet Michigan, touching no ocean, has the longest coastline of any state in the nation after Alaska — 2,250 miles on the Great Lakes.

Woodrow Wilson called the voice of the Midwest the "voice of protest," and out of this region as large as France and with more industrial muscle than France and Britain combined, have come many of America's great rebellions. It was bloody ground in the War of 1812 and to a lesser extent in the Revolution.

It went through a period of utopian communes and after the Civil War it erupted in a great expansion of agriculture and industry. Workers were so needed that they were sought abroad and it speeded immigration and settlement. By 1920 the Heartland had 3.5 million residents who had been born abroad out of a total population of 21.5 million.

Rich And Poor There was great wealth and great poverty and inevitable labor strife. "America's era of wonderful nonsense" ended with the 1929 crash and the Heartland plunged deep into the Great Depression. "Keweenaw County, Michigan had fully two thirds of its population on relief. The Heartland did not revive fully until World War II, when it proved again how abundantly it could produce."

"There was a pause after the war, but not a depression... Heartland cities began a mad scramble for colleges and technical schools. Northern Michigan University shot from 900 to more than 5,500 students in 10 years."

McLaughlin says that today the Heartland is stronger than ever and ready to challenge the East, or any place else, for national leadership. The region grants 25 per cent of the nation's doctoral degrees.

Reporter Accent McLaughlin reports more than he interprets and there is more accent on the broad sweep of the economy than on our culture, but our writers and other artists are there, too, and the book's profusion of good pictures make a very lively graphic record of the Heartland's birth and growth.

The book is a catalogue of our resources and an expert inspection of the mysterious process by which so many races were blended into one in a lakeland that has become one of the most bountiful areas on earth, a place of blast furnaces and auto production lines, forests and farmlands, superhighways and the world's busiest airports, gangsterism, social and economic experimentation, and a contribution of immense dynamism to the nation's business.

People Losers In Welfare Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — The young man and his wife sat on the wooden chairs in the sterile gray and green room and held hands. He was 22 and she was 18. They had been married four months. They were being evicted from their apartment and hadn't eaten in three days. They were losers—two of the 650,000 persons on the city's welfare rolls.

This month many of them are losers—caught in the middle of a situation they didn't want, didn't cause and don't need. It started 10 days ago when about 80 per cent of the Department of Welfare's case workers began refusing to do their assigned tasks in a demonstration to underscore a contract dispute with the city.

To avoid breaking a state law prohibiting strikes by public employees, they went to work but did no work, meeting in seminars instead. A few days later, the city decided that if the case workers wanted to hold seminars, they could hold them just as well on the sidewalk, and permitted only those willing to perform "assigned work" to enter the welfare centers. At some of the city's 33 centers, those willing to work under the specified conditions numbered only two or three of a normal staff of 100 or more. Supervisory personnel and office help were brought in to replace missing case workers. It hasn't been enough. Welfare Department spokesmen say that the temporary setup has been sufficient to maintain at least emergency services. Some doubt it.

"This is our third day here," the young husband said. "Each time we come about 10 in the morning and at 4 in the afternoon they give us carfare and tell us to come back tomorrow. They give us numbers to keep us in order. Today I got number 87. About 12:30 they called number 45. They haven't called another number since." It was then 2 p.m.

"We owe 3½ weeks rent," the man said. "This morning the landlord told us he couldn't wait any more. They've got to help us today." Contract Expired Outside, six members of the Social Service Employees Union marched back and forth. "We feel awful about those people in there," said Michael McKain. "But I'll quit before I go back in there if the city doesn't honor its promises to us," McKain declared. The SSEU contract expired last Jan. 15. At that time, the contract dispute precipitated a three-day walkout that ended when the city said it would send the wage issue to fact-finding, open direct negotiations on "other issues" and later send still-unresolved problems to fact-finding. The city, through its director of labor relations, Herbert Haber, now says there are some issues which are "not bargainable"—demands by the union for control of what the city considers management prerogatives.

Nursing Nuns Doff Habits Of Order In East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nursing nuns at Georgetown University Hospital are the first in the nation to try a switch to white nurses' uniforms in place of the traditional white religious habit.

And they are finding that "with no long skirts dragging behind, or sleeves dangling at her side, a nursing sister can move about more easily, especially through narrow space," said Sister M. Francesca Lump of the order of Sisters of St. Joseph. She is assistant administrator of nursing services at the hospital.

Eight of the 13 nursing nuns at the hospital are participating in the voluntary experiment, expected to last several months. Each nun selects the style of uniform that suits her own taste. All of them, however, wear a white, shoulder-length veil as a head-covering.

Big Bay De Noc
Producing Bass

Bass continue to hit in the Ford River south of Escanaba on M-35 for fishermen using artificial lures, the Conservation Department reports. Some limits of rainbow trout were taken on the Bark River upstream from M-35 this past week on worms.

In the Rapid River and Ensign areas of Ogontz Bay near St. Vitalis Island, Martin Bay, and the east side of Ogontz Bay are best for bass fishing. Several limits have been taken using night crawlers and casting with small artificial plugs. The head of Big Bay de Noc has been good for bass and northern pike on artificial bait. Chicago Lake has been good for bass, northern pike, and bluegills on worms and small lures. Round Lake has produced some catches of northern pike by use of live bait.

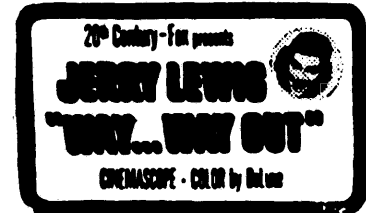

In the Gwinn area the Escanaba River in T45N-R25W, T44N-R25W, and T43N-R25W is producing nice catches of brown trout on worms, lures, and wet flies. Little Shag Lake is good for bluegills and perch using minnows and worms. Escanaba River, in general, is good for brook trout in T45N-R25W, T44N-R25W and T43N-R25W using flies and worms.

THIS GIZZARD SHAD (Dorosoma cepedianum) was taken in Little Bay de Noc off the Stonington Peninsula by the Johnson Brothers, commercial fishermen of Gladstone, in a gill net in June. The fish, says Jim Walker, conservation officer, is very rare in this area. "This is a true shad, not to be confused with the alewife, now so prevalent in Little Bay de Noc and the Whitefish River," says Walker. "It is also known as the Mud Shad, descriptive of its feeding habits: Hickory Shad, descriptive of its stomach, the size and shape of a hickory nut, and Threadfin, from the threadfin projection on the dorsal fin. 'Stink Shad' tells the story of its eating quality. After trying this one, I think the fish is strictly for fertilizer. The ruler is 6 inches long. (Jim Walker Photo)

Wildlife Pets Create
Problems And Happiness

By Lee Snits

The kid, about 12, a Mark Twain character, had a young raccoon riding on his shoulder. Boy and coon were spectators at the Annual Duck Hunters' Tournament, staged at the Pt. Mouillee Game Area. Conservation officers invited the boy into the headquarters office and explained to him that he was a law violator. Keeping a raccoon, or any other protected game species in captivity, is prohibited by statute. The department men were very mild and friendly with the lad. They had no intention of hauling him before a justice of the peace—but he was given to understand that he couldn't keep his coon without a special permit.

It was just as well that boy and coon were parted before the coon grew up. Eventually a pet coon will sink its sharp teeth into its owner.

There seems to be a human instinct for making pets of animals or trying to. Perhaps that is the way various birds and mammals become domesticated to begin with. At this time of year, when wild infants are catchable, warnings are issued and illegally possessed animals are confiscated.

Enough publicity has been given to the kidnapping of fawns so that the crime is rare these days. As everybody should know by this time, the fawn, flattened out on the ground, is not an orphan or abandoned by its mother. Also, those who have had dealings with tame deer know that there is no animal more dangerous. Even a tame doe is likely to make an unprovoked and deadly attack on the person who has reared it, whereas a buck, in mating season, is a sure man killer, given the opportunity.

The black bear is, of course, even less desirable as a pet than a deer. No animal is quite as unpredictable as a bear. The playful clown turns demon between two seconds, without the slightest visible cause.

There is a difference between a "tame" animal and a "pet". Some animals tame immediately. The water moccasin, beaver, muskrat, porcupine—captured in the wild immediately accepts food from a person. But if a pet is assumed to have attachment for its custodian, few animals are real pets. Probably the creature capable of the most sincere devotion is a wild goose. It becomes "imprinted" if taken in charge at an early age, but a wild goose cannot be legally possessed out of season without two permits, state and federal.

A good way to determine whether an animal can be kept in possession is to consult a digest of state laws. No protected species can be retained.

An excellent way to form a close acquaintance with wild animals is to feed them regularly until they recognize the donor and outgrow fear. A city fox squirrel learns all too readily to call for hand-outs. Those who operate birdfeeders get to know their boarders at close range. Now and then someone wins the confidence of a beaver family in the wild so that beavers will hurry out of the water and climb on the lap of a friend offering such tidbits as turnips, cabbage, apples.

There are unprotected species that make excellent pets. Owning a pet crow is an unforgettable experience. A crow is highly intelligent, diabolical, a thief, a rogue. To cage a crow would be as senseless and cruel as to split its tongue to enable the bird to talk. Crows will learn to talk, not with a split tongue. Some years ago in the Chicago-Boston Boulevard neighborhood on Detroit's west side there was a tame crow that delighted in swooping down on small children, sending them into hysteria with raucous cries. The police had to arrest this crow.

One of the most interesting bird pets is a starling—and there are no laws affecting starlings. A young starling attaches itself to humans, learns to mimic other birds and can communicate its wants. A boy with a starling discovered that it was useful in eliminating ants from the lawn. In a bottomless bird cage the starling, placed over an ant hill, would be busy and happy for hours gobbling ants.

Governors Urged
To Back Romney

JACKSON LAKE LODGE, Wyo. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York urged fellow Republican governors today to give Michigan Gov. George Romney "a run for his money" for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination before turning elsewhere.

Rockefeller told a cocktail party-news conference Wednesday at this resort which his family's money built that despite declarations of support for him as a possible compromise nominee, he doesn't intend to figure in bidding for top place on the ticket. He again said he is wholeheartedly backing Romney.

Rockefeller met, however, with Govs. David F. Cargo of New Mexico and Tom McCall of Oregon during the Republican Governors Conference. Both have declared publicly that Rockefeller is the best qualified and most electable Republican opponent for President Johnson next year.

Cargo and McCall tried to rally moderates against the growing threat of conservative Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, who says he is only his state's favorite-son candidate. Reagan recently has been blossoming as the favorite of conservatives who backed Barry Goldwater in 1964 and want another candidate in Goldwater's mold.

Rockefeller, who sat in briefly on the Cargo-McCall conference, cast doubt on whether party moderates could get together on any candidate or even could agree on specifications for a nominee.

"There are so many different viewpoints within the Republican party that I do not know whether we can ever come to any agreement on what the qualifications of a candidate should be," Rockefeller said.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, who may be a favorite-son candidate, said the moderates engaged primarily in chitchat and made little progress toward either agreeing on a candidate or on any specifications for the nominee.

Gary Gotta of Hurley, one of the top athletes in the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference, will enter Superior State University in the fall. Gotta, a 6 foot 2 inch basketball prospect, averaged 22 points a game for the Midgets last season. At Superior he will join another former outstanding Hurley product in Dick DeZur on Coach Dom Moselle's cage squad.

Bill Bertucci, Ging's Bar mound ace, tuned up for the Escanaba Invitational softball tournament this weekend by firing a one hitter as his team blanked Northwoods Supper Club, 6-0, in the Marquette City tourney. Top sluggers for Ging's were Rick Olds with three hits, Chet Walker with a homer and Pudgy L'Huillier with a homer and single.

Ironwood cemented its top spot in the Western Upper Peninsula prep basketball league race by nipping Bergland, 1-0, for victory No. 4 this season. George Delimba slammed a solo homer in the fourth inning and Don Koivisto pitched a three hitter, fanning 12 for the Red Devils.

The Soo Merchants pulled farther ahead of the pack in the Soo Senior softball loop this week by blanking second place Kincheloe, 3-0, behind (Dave) Whitey Horka's one-hit gem. He fanned 14 batters and had his no hit bid spoiled by a single off the bat of Lee Iseler in the second inning.

One of the few remaining undefeated softball teams in the Upper Peninsula is Bosch of the Copper Country Commercial League. The Beer team earned its 10th straight triumph this week by edging Stevenson Chevs, 6-5. Jeff Jasicki scattered eight hits for the mound decision against Tony Bukovich Jr. who was touched for five hits, granted four walks and fanned three batters.

Another unbeaten softball team continued its winning ways as Credit Union trimmed Freeman Bulck, 10-1, in the Iron Mountain Intercity League. Carl Lemm doled out six hits and whiffed 11 as the league leaders notched their first victory in second half league action after a perfect 10-0 record in the first half.

Upper Peninsula high school athletics is losing one of its finest representatives in Norm Slough who is leaving Rapid River after 21 years to accept a position at Peshtigo High School. Slough is one of the top basketball and football officials in the region, was a credit to his profession during his coaching career and was a leading figure in the Central League which is one of the best prep sports organizations in the U. P.

Bill Smith Runnerup In Qualifying Round Of Amateur Tourney

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—A slim, young man from Drayton Plains who bills himself a weekend golfer held the Michigan Amateur qualifying record 65 going into today's second round.

Tad Schmidt, a Burroughs Corp. salesman, pounded the "I'm strictly a weekend golfer," Schmidt said after his 65. "I don't play weekdays."

"I'm ashamed to say it, but I shot an 82 yesterday in practice," he added.

"I get two or three good breaks today," he said. "I just had a good touch."

Schmidt scored seven birdies and not one bogey. He was followed by frail Bill Smith of Sault Ste. Marie, with 35-32-67. Smith had an eagle with a 30-foot chip shot.

But he may not be able to finish, since he is under a doctor's care as a result of a bout with encephalitis.

Match play requires two rounds a day and Smith, a tall slender 20-year-old, may not be able to take it, he said.

Defending champion Robert Meyer of East Lansing, who qualified automatically, shot a 71 in practice.

Sharing 71s with him were Zann of Royal Oak and Frank Skesone of Grand Rapids.

Sports In Brief

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—John Frye, who led White Pigeon out of the prep basketball doldrums last season with a 20-2 record after the team had lost a state record 61 games in a row, has been named head coach of St. Joseph High School, St. Joseph, with six Class B state titles to its credit, hasn't been a threat since it last won in 1953.

FLINT (AP)—Marksmen will attempt to shatter 300,000 clay targets in the 58th annual state trap shooting championship at Detroit Gun Club near Walled Lake July 6-8. The Michigan Trap Shooting Association expects about 500 sharpshooters to compete for state titles in the 16-yard, doubles and handicap events, with special trophies for out-of-state shooters.

Tigers Snap Losing Streak, Outlasting Cleveland Ball Club

DETROIT (AP)—In a game as slow as molasses sliding down the side of a jar, the Detroit Tigers struggled to a 7-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night, snapping a four-game losing streak.

"It had its thrills," Manager Mayo Smith said with a grin after the three hour and 27-minute contest, delayed 35 minutes at the start by rain.

The Tigers broke a 3-2 tie with four runs in the sixth, nursing former Detroit relief pitcher Orlando Pena for four walks to force in the tie-breaking run.

Willie Horton followed with a bases-loaded single off George Culver who replaced Pena. Then a wild pitch let in the final run.

Joe Sparma, with relief help from Dave Wickersham, boosted his record to 8-1 with six innings of hot and cold pitching. He walked five, hit one batter and struck out six.

"Joe had good stuff but he was a little wild," said Smith. "I had to stick with him because our bullpen still is in bad shape."

Wickersham gave up one run in the seventh and cut off the Indians with two base runners in the eighth. He ended the game on a flash by bare-handing Chico Salmon's high bound-

Crusader Boosters Make Field Plans; Lights Considered

The Holy Name High School Booster Club has announced plans to erect a fence around the new athletic field site southeast of the school off 4th Ave. S. The Snowden Co. of Escanaba has been contracted for the job and construction will begin Monday, July 3, at a cost of $6,749.20.

The 72 inch chain link fence with solid steel posts will be 2,031 linear feet and will include two 10 foot drive gates and one five foot walk gate.

At an earlier Booster Club meeting, an announcement was made of a conflict existing this fall as both local football teams, Escanaba and Holy Name, will play at home the same day, Sept. 9, at 2 p.m. Escanaba will host Menominee and Holy Name will entertain Kingsford. The Holy Name game will be played on the new field.

It was stated that the problem could possibly be greater in future years as it is extremely difficult to arrange games without area conflicts. A lighted field, however, would enable both schools to entertain visiting teams and offer two games on some weekends for area fans.

At a special meeting of the club held last week, positive effort was exerted toward solving the problem with discussion centered around erection of lights at the Holy Name field. Figures and costs were presented and a committee appointed. The committee will meet with the Holy Name Board of Education in August and present information on the lighting situation for consideration and action. Booster Club officials stated today.

American Netters Turn Laughs Into Cheers By Winning At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The Americans, who came to Wimbledon as the laughing-stock of world amateur tennis, have become its heroes.

Three U.S. players—Cliff Richey, Marty Riessen and Charlie Pasarell—have set the tournament ablaze by toppling seeded stars when none of the experts gave them a chance.

Two of them—Richey and Riessen—took part in last week's Davis Cup disaster when the United States was eliminated by little Ecuador.

Pasarell didn't even see action in that competition. His form wasn't considered good enough.

Richey, the chunky, red-headed 20-year-old from San Angelo, Tex., scored the most incredible triumph of his life Wednesday over Tony Roche, the Australian left-hander who was seeded No. 4. After four exhausting hours, Richey won 3-6 3-4 10-17 14-12 6-3.

Riessen, from Evanston, Ill., demolished the Danish left-hander Jan Leschly, seeded No. 7, 1-6, 6-3 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Pasarell, of Sault Ste. Marie, P.R., staged the first sensation of the tournament by eliminating the reigning champion, Manuel Santana of Spain. He followed that up Wednesday by defeating another highly regarded player, Bob Hewitt of South Africa, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Riessen, for one, was still feeling sore about the Davis Cup disaster in Ecuador—even though the Wimbledon crowds applauded him back to the dressing room after he had beaten Leschly.

"Nothing that happens here can make up for our failure against Ecuador," Riessen said. "Even if I won the Wimbledon title it wouldn't erase the memory of that."

The three Americans were all considered to have a tough draw when this tournament started—and nobody seriously expected them to go very far.

Now they found themselves clear of the big hurdles with an apparently smooth path ahead.

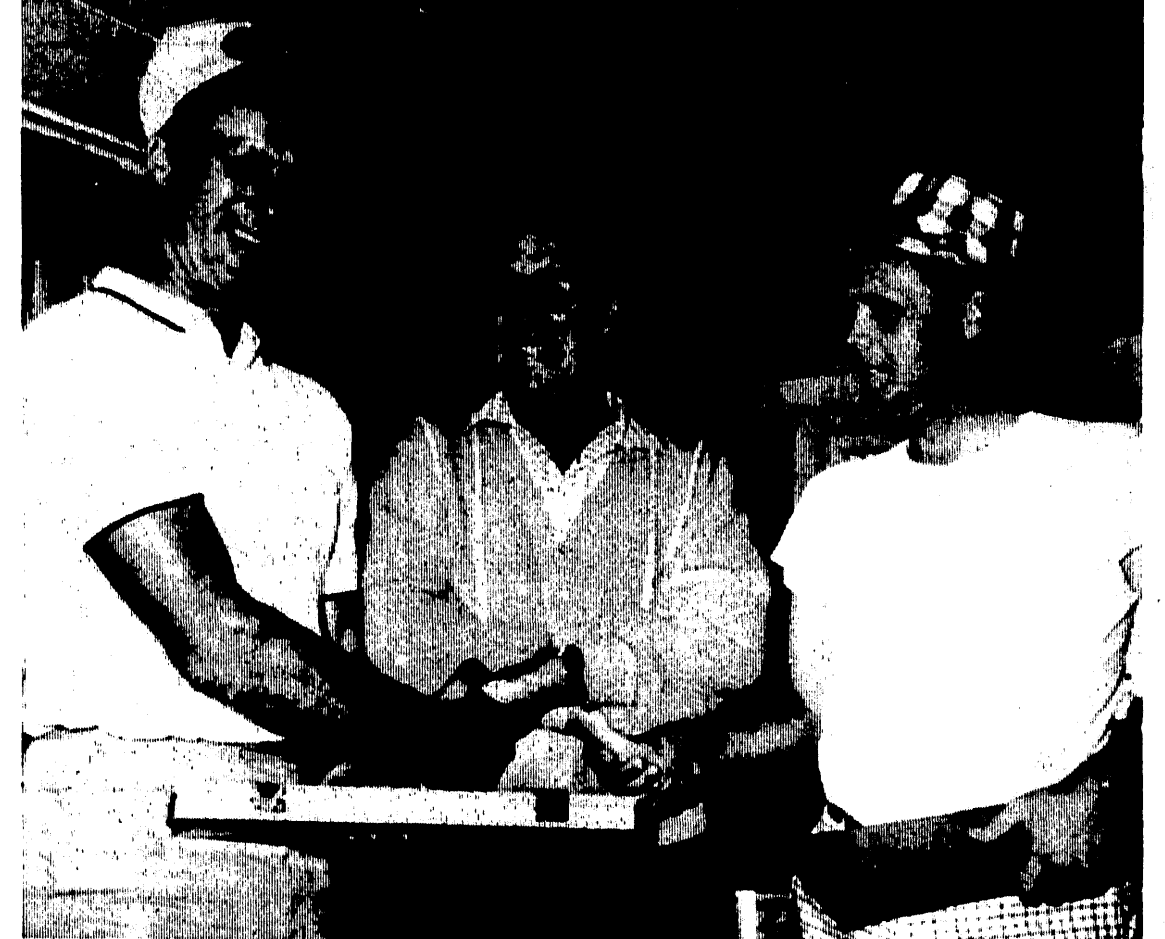

Richey faced Ray Ruffels of Australia in the round of 32.

Riessen had to meet John Cooper, a 20-year-old Australian, and brother of Ashley Cooper, the 1958 Wimbledon champion.

Pasarell was paired against Frank Tuttle, a Canadian who is studying at the University of Iowa and lives at Hollywood, Fla.

Two other Americans were left in the last 32. San Smith of Los Angeles had to play Australia's John Newcombe, the No. 3 seed, and Clark Graebner, Riessen's Davis Cup doubles partner from Beachwood, Ohio, faced Edison Mandarino of Brazil.

Roy Emerson of Australia, favorite for his third Wimbledon title now that Santana is out, had another easy victory Wednesday and now meets Bob Maud of South Africa.

All-Star Pickers Blush After Mays Blasts Pair Against St. Louis Team

By The Associated Press
Anybody for a recount?

Willie Mays left a couple hundred embarrassed All-Star electors in his wake Wednesday when, a few hours after the announcement that he had been left out of the National League's starting line-up for the first time since 1954, he hit two homers and two singles in San Francisco's 9-1 pounding of St. Louis.

The peerless Giant slugger finished fourth in the voting for outfielders, receiving 39 fewer votes than Lou Brock of St. Louis. Willie is virtually certain to be named to the team by Manager Walt Alton of the Dodgers, but for the first time since 1954 he won't be a starter.

Willie confesses that "I'm not having what anyone would call a fantastic year."—anyone named Willie Mays, that is; he's hitting .293 with 13 homers and 37 RBI—but you couldn't prove that by the Cards.

In other National League action, Chicago won a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 4-2 and 3-1. Los Angeles overcame Cincinnati 7-5, Houston beat Atlanta 4-2 and Philadelphia edged New York 6-5.

Both of Mays' singles came in the third inning when the Giants scored six times, giving Ray Sadecki a commanding lead against his old teammates that he had no trouble holding.

The first homer was delivered in the sixth inning and the second—No. 555 of his career—came in the eighth. Both were off reliever Al Jackson.

The amazing Cubs made it nine victories in 10 outings with their pair of triumphs over the Pirates. Ferguson Jenkins won the opener, his 10th of the season, and Ray Culp allowed just three hits in the nightcap. Adolfo Phillips hit a three-run homer in the first game and ignited the

Causey Wallops Rare Homer To Beat Baltimore

By The Associated Press
"I wasn't thinking home run," admitted Eddie Causey, manager of rampaging Chicago White Sox.

"I wasn't thinking home run," muttered Hank Bauer, manager of the faltering Baltimore Orioles.

"I never think home run," grinned Wayne Causey, whose first circuit clout in two years lifted the White Sox to a 3-2 victory over Baltimore Wednesday night.

Causey's three-run eighth inning homer wiped out a 2-0 Orioles lead and gave the first-place White Sox their ninth victory in the last 12 games. Baltimore, the defending world champion, has dropped 12 of the last 16.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City used three pitchers to shut out New York 2-0. Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2. Detroit rapped Cleveland 7-4 and California rallied to defeat Washington 4-2.

Ron Hansen and Don Buford opened the Chicago eighth with singles against Baltimore's Bill Dillman, who was working on a shutout. Dillman retired punch runner Jimmy Stewart at the plate on Tommie Agee's tap.

Bauer, who struck out 13, sacrificed Ted Uhlander to second in the seventh, and Tony Arana drove him with his hit. Jerry Adams and Reggie Smith homered for the Red Sox.

Primo Carnera Dies In Italy

SEQUALS, Italy (AP)—Primo Carnera, the towering Italian known as "The Ambling Alp" when he won the world heavyweight boxing championship in 1933, died today in this mountain town where he was born. He was 60.

His huge body wasted from cirrhosis of the liver, Carnera left the United States last month and came home to die. He was in a coma for almost a week before death came.

Girls Softball

Tim & Sally's defeated Kivans for their third straight victory Wednesday with Eva Billings and Darlene McDonough hitting homers for the winners and Rose stroking two for the losers. McDonough was the winning pitcher, Linda Dye the loser.

Doris Swanson Is Low Golfer

Doris Swanson shot a 45 for individual honors in the Escanaba Country Club women's league matches Wednesday. Other low scorers were Mari Miller, Marie Wicklander and Betty Gauthier with 46s. Mary Sue Boyce and Peg Douglas with 48s, Sally Fontaine, Alice Gainer and Harriet Fitzharris 50s.

Sailing Rookie Is Open Champ

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—Larry Whipple, 18, of Seattle, Wash., sailing for the first time in an O.K. dinghy, won the U.S. Open Sailing Championship Wednesday in the windup of the series on Huntington Bay.

Dan Bolton, of Australia, finished second.

Bridal Dress

Robert Corryell, Munising, was best man and Richard Fulcher, Marquette, and Ray Fulcher, Munising, were groomsmen. William Haindl and Thomas Gladus ushered. Rings were carried by Brian Hubble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubble.

The bride wore a Saki empire gown with removable circular train, made of ivory linen and textured rayon. Delicate French knitted lace and floral motifs outlined the square neckline. A pillbox headpiece of the same velvet lace as on the bodice held her elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and trailing ivy.

The bridal attendants wore mint green empire gowns, with daisy bouquet motifs flowing down the back of the skirts. They wore circular headpieces with daisy motifs and carried bouquets of the same flower.

Home in Munising

Mrs. Haindl wore an apricot colored lace suit with white rose corsage and white accessories. Mrs. Husson wore a black and white ensemble with white rose corsage.

A reception for 300 was held

O'Neil Suggests Dropout Action

LANSING (AP) — A 10-point program designed to reduce school dropouts and juvenile delinquency has been proposed to the state board of education by James F. O'Neil, a board member.

Contending that delinquency runs at a 1000 per cent higher rate among dropouts or "push-outs" than among those who continue their education, O'Neil proposed that:

—Basic health and socialization needs be provided for deprived children to ensure that all beginning school children have an equal start.

—Parents become more involved in the education of their children.

—More meaningful educational opportunities be provided to allow children to relate to "the world of work and the world we live in."

—Potential dropouts be identified early and provided with incentive to continue their education.

—The legal dropout age be raised from 16 to 17.

—The legal driving age be raised from 16 to 17.

—School facilities and programs be made "more available for youth and community activities."
